Will my taking part in this project be kept confidential?

	University research activities are governed by regulations called Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs). They ensure the confidentiality and security of all study data.
	All staff who work directly with study data will have Good Clinical Practice (GCP) certification. This means that they will treat your information in the same way that your doctors and nurses treat your information.
	As an added layer of security, your personal details, such as your name and address, will be held separately from any health-related or other information that you provide in questionnaires and interviews.
	In this research study, we will use information from you. We will only use information that we need for the research study. We will not share your name or contact details with anyone not involved directly in this study. Everyone involved in this study will keep your data safe and secure. We will also follow all privacy rules. At the end of the study, we will save some of the data in case we need to check it and for future research. We will make sure no-one can work out who you are from the reports we write.

What if I want to stop taking part in the study?

	You can stop at any time if you want to, without giving reasons for stopping, unless you are willing to do so. Stopping won't affect your medical care in any way.
	If you decide to stop, we will use the information you gave us before you stopped, but we won't ask for any more.
	If you do not return the questionnaire or respond to the reminder, we will understand that you have not consented to participate. If you would like to register your non-participation formally, you may return the Study Opt-Out Form in the Freepost envelope provided.

What if there is a problem?

	In the first instance, you can contact the study team using the contact details at the top of this document.
